

One Year Conservatory

The One Year Conservatory maximizes training in a condensed program that integrates the fundamental elements of the acting craft – impulse, voice, physicality, intellect – propelling each individual actor to discover their own cohesive personalized process of creating character, and releasing their inner artist.

Employing the broader scope of training forged by Stanislavski and explored by the members of The Method movement, the MHS One Year Conservatory engages in somatic protocols that train each actor to discover and develop their own technique while learning the vernacular of the business.

The foundational elements of the One Year Conservatory are as follows:

Acting For Film & TV	Improvisation
Alexander Technique	Impulsive Voice
Animal Work	Impulsive Physicality
Audition Technique	Movement for the Actor
Business of Acting	Scene Study
Character Movement	Script Analysis
Clown	Shakespeare/Heightened Text
Commercial Technique	Writing for Performance
Contemporary Classics	Vocality
Creating Your Own Work	Yoga & Mindfulness

The One Year Conservatory is a performance-based program consisting of studio instruction combined with rehearsals. Classes run five days a week, 9am – 2pm. The course progression is designed to build to a professional industry showcase to help students launch into the business.

The faculty is constructed of working professionals and industry guests sharing their specialty skillsets, that have been shaped into one cohesive program designed to help each actor develop their own personal, individuated technique. MHS teaches the craft and the business of acting, to launch our students into the profession, and a sustainable career.
